Do your Christmas shopping at R. M. Trimble's, Santa Claus headquarters.

Mr. George Wagoner returned Saturday from University Hospital feeling like a different man.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church closed Sunday night. During the three weeks of its progress there were something like forty conversions and reclamations.

Messrs. C. C. Burns and D. O. Bird, of the Blue Grass side, were trading in Monterey Saturday.

Mr. Boyd Beverage, who was operating a small saw mill near his home on Strait Creek last week, had the misfortune to sprain his hand. He was cranking a small gasoline engine at the time when his hand slipped, causing the accident.

A nice Christmas present for your far away friend is a year's subscription to the RECORDER. It only cost a dollar and the donor will be remembered 52 times in the year. It is the kind of gift that is appreciated.

Nothing is more suitable for a holiday present than an Ideal Waterman Fountain Pen. You will find a large assortment by calling at my place. H. M. Slaven, Jeweler.

If there is anything that can make a cold day tolerable it is the fact that one is going or coming to spend Christmas with loved ones at home.

A letter from Mr. Dan Ralston, received by members of his family here, gives encouraging news that the specialist at University Hospital, whom he went to consult, is confident of saving his eye, and he hopes to return home by Christmas.

Christmas Seals, Holly Tags and Paper, Booklets and Christmas and New Year Cards at H. M. Slaven's jewelry store.

The western slope of the Monterey mountain became so drifted by heavy winds blowing the snow last week that a few places had to be shoveled open by the road authorities.

The show windows begin to present a dismantled appearance which speaks well for the giving spirit.

I can sell you a nice watch for modest price. Call and see my complete line. One special $2.00 boy's watch. H. M. Slaven.

Mr. W. E. Gum, owner of the planing mill on "Potomac Avenue," has been confined to his home for more than a week on account of illness.

Crossing the mountains from Staunton to Monterey on Tuesday was equivalent to cold storage treatment, but Messrs. Glenn Ruckman and Arthur Hale were among the number who made the trip.

FARMERS AND ORCHARDISTS don't buy your fruit trees until you see J. C. Darnall or one of his agents, representing the Fremont Nursery, Fremont, O. They sell better trees for less money than any other nursery in existence. 12-16-1m

Mr. H. M. Slaven, jeweler, has received and is distributing his handsome 1911 calendars. The design is large and attractive, and, in addition to an appropriate reference to all holidays, dignity is given to the 2nd of February by a life-like representation of his hogship, the American marmot.

Mr. J. C. Darnall, a wide-awake fruit-tree man of Pendleton county, was in Highland the past week. He represents an Ohio nursery, and it is considered by experienced orchardists the trees are a hardy varieties suitable for this high climate. The South Branch people are putting out large orchards of the Ohio trees.

While on his way to Staunton last Sunday afternoon to meet Dr. O. J. Campbell, Mr. R. B. Campbell had the misfortune to lose a fine young horse which he was driving, the property of Dr. Campbell. The horse took sick near Middle River, and died before the veterinarian could be secured. On their return trip the following day, the other horse in the team, belonging to Mr. Campbell, became sick and had to be left at West Augusta. Dr. Campbell telephoned for another horse, and finally reached home Tuesday night.

Paul Slaven, who has been spending a month or more with her father in Washington, will return to Monterey Friday evening.

It is due the people of Bolar to state that they have paid every penny of the amount they subscribed to the building of the Bolar bridge. These people were anxious for a bridge, and backed their anxiety, by a good healthy subscription, and now they have a good bridge, and are happy—yes they are happy.

On Wednesday last, the following young people, of lower Strait Creek, were united in marriage, Rev. Josiah Beverage being the officiating minister: Lewis A. Wimer and Almada Mae Spoungale, Floyd W. Rexrode and Lillie Mae Wimer. After the two ceremonies a dinner was served at the Spoungale home.

RESERVOIR LOW.

There was much surprise among the people of the town when it was learned that the reservoir which furnishes the greater portion of the residences with water was nearly dry. No explanation is given, and, as Mr. Kyle is now away on his bridal tour, there is no probability that immediate steps will be taken to ascertain the cause of the singular occurrence.

The pool, was built over the Hevener spring, one mile above town, and, to our knowledge, the spring was never known to fail or to be affected by dry weather or low water courses. Should it develop that the spring has found another outlet, probably under ground, the trouble will be serious both to the Company and the town.

Fortunately Monterey is well-supplied in the way of good springs and wells, and no famine is possible. It is to be hoped that normal conditions can be restored at the big spring in a short while.

Later: Toward noon the pool seemed to be filling again, and no serious interruption of the service is likely to occur.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

The scholars of the Methodist Sunday School will render a Christmas programme at the church on Monday night, Dec. 26th, and a treat is being arranged for the younger members of the school. The programme is one of the usual order for such occasions, and the children of this school never fail to give a creditable rendering.

The public is cordially invited.

KYLE--WARD NUPT

To settle the vexed question of the supremacy and have to knit its crime the relativ up nights to the two Virtue responsibility of little Dan ginias, but to anon disposing of Cupid is of far more important that they involve the destitute happiness of human life, tiny of amomus being all that tressary before the tribunal of tstitute little jurist, or barrister, whichever you wish to call him.

The marriage of Mr. William For-est Kyle, of Monterey, and Miss Rose Nell Ward, of Elkins, celebrated on Wednesday morning, December 21, was a social event of much interest in the respective sections of the two Virginias, where the contracting parties resided.

The wedding was a home affair and was replete with every detail and conventionality that would add to the pleasure and beauty of the occasion, quite a number of the relatives and friends of both parties being present, some as attendants, others witnesses, the solemn service being conducted by Rev. F. H. Barron, pastor of the Elkins Presbyterian church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ward, a well-known family of Elkins, and is prominent in society circles of that bustling West Virginia city. She is an attractive young lady, of the brunette type, and on a previous visit to Monterey a year or more ago, made many friends and acquaintances among the people with whom her future lot will be cast. It was during this visit that the young people met, and the wily little love-god got in the work that led to the happy consummation which we chronicle to-day.

Mr. Kyle is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Kyle, of Staunton, his mother being a native of Highland, daughter of the late Wm. D. Gibson. During his residence of about two years in Monterey, he has been a leading factor in the introduction of the town's modern and much-needed conveniences. Monterey is one of the few off-railroad towns that can boast of a good water, sewer and electric light system, and it is due to Mr. Kyle's energy and enterprise that we enjoy the distinction. He has, however, during his stay among us, not only made for himself a reputation along this line, but he is respected as an all-round good citizen, honorable, courteous and accommodating. The same energy and pride shown in the matter of the public enterprises referred to were manifested in the building and equipping of the home into which the new bride will shortly be ushered. Located immediately beside the electric light plant, his new residence is one of the handsomest, most modern and complete in the county, and when, after a ten-days' sojourn at the National capital and with Staunton relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Kyle announce that they will be "at home" to their friends, the words imply.

The RECORDER extends hearty congratulations and good wishes, and bespeaks for them a warm welcome to the town.

MARRIED.

On Wednesday, at Rheoboth church, Back Creek, Rev. Mr. Goodall, officiating, Rev. S. R. Sneed and Miss Sallie Bird.

Rev. Mr. Sneed is a member of the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church South, and pastor of the Hot Springs circuit. He is a stranger to most of our people, but this being his third or fourth year on his circuit speaks mighty well for him.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bird, is a most excellent young lady, than whom there is no better in Highland. The noblest Christian virtues adorn her life and character, and this good man, who doubtless sought a congenial and earnest helpmeet in his work of the ministry, is to be commended for his wisdom in choosing this consecrated Highland lady.

BRUIN VISITS TOWN

WOUNDED, HE AMBLES THROUGH STREETS OF DOE HILL

PEOPLE ALL TURN OUT TO MEET HIM, BUT, IGNORING RECEPTION. HE ASSAYS TO LEAVE AND IS SHOT--OTHER NEWS ITEMS.

Doe Hill, Va., Dec. 19.—The greatest excitement prevailed this afternoon in our usually quiet village when it was made known that a bear had been seen about two miles west of Mr. Ambrose Price's place. Our local sportsmen started in hot pursuit, and in a short while it was seen on the hill west of town. Jno. O. Armstrong aimed the first shot, breaking one of its legs. It then turned and came directly toward town, and jumped into Mrs. Alfred Armstrong's garden. By this time the whole town, women and children joined the chase. It ran just below the school house, the pupils rushed pell mell after it, and the bear jumped into the garden at Mr. Wilson's late home, and from there made for the hill opposite the school house, where it received a fatal shot. It was brought to town and some snap shot views taken of the party and their trophy.

Our local talent will give a play, "The Deacon," on Friday night, Dec. 30, after which oysters will be served at the school house.

Mrs. Alfred Armstrong has been disabled for some little time by a sore limb.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson and daughter, Louie, returned from Illinois two weeks ago. Their son, William, accompanied them.

SAD DEATH

Just before going to press we learn of the death, Thursday morning at 6 o'clock, of Miss Georgie Hiner, which occurred at the old home on Jackson's River.

She was an estimable lady, a devout christian worker, and we hope to be able to give an appropriate sketch of her useful life at a future time.

MASONIC NOTICE.

Owing to unfavorable conditions and the consequent small attendance of the brethren, the election of officers was postponed until the festival meeting of the lodge on Tuesday, Dec. 27. On that day the brethren are all cordially invited to meet promptly at 11 o'clock, when the election and installation will take place. After other important business is transacted, the lodge will go, at 1 p. m., to Hotel Monterey where arrangements have been made for the inner man. Each brother is expected to bring his wife, mother, sister, sweetheart or friend.
